Functional Crown Lengthening Surgery
For Improved and Predictable Restorative Outcomes

Lecture & Hands-On Course
Ostrow School of Dentistry of USC
Saturday, September 21, 2013
9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Online registration available at www.uscdentalce.org
Subgingival caries and tooth fractures are common occurrences in clinical practice. They typically lead to difficulties in managing the restorative finish line and an inability to make proper impressions. In other situations, dentists face difficulties obtaining adequate crown retention and a ferrule effect. These can lead to secondary caries, repeated fractures and periodontal complications due to biologic width impingement. This course is designed to assist clinicians with managing these challenges and will explore the periodontal-restorative interphase.

Participants will learn about functional crown lengthening and its indications prior to restorative treatment. It will review the surgical techniques and how to improve restorative results by incorporating periodontal principles. The hands-on portion will enable participants to practice surgical crown lengthening including effective flap design and suturing techniques.

Topics To Be Covered

- Difference between functional and esthetic crown lengthening
- The importance of the biologic width
- Indications and contraindications
- What are the restorative considerations relevant to crown lengthening surgery?
- When to “save” a tooth and when to extract?
- Step-by-step surgical technique
- The surgical kit and procedure set-up
- Complications management
- When to refer to a periodontist
