It is with a great deal of enthusiasm that I would like to invite you to attend the 42nd International USC Periodontal & Implant Symposium. The theme of this year's symposium will be: "Risks & Rewards". The concept is that risk assessment is an essential component of selecting an appropriate therapy for patients and predicting the outcome of the desired therapy. A variety of risk assessment tools are available to assess individual patient's risks (eg. Periodontitis, peri-implantitis, prosthetic success, etc), as well as their outcome following therapy (surgical wound healing, disease relapse, prosthetic survival, etc). In order to manage patient risks, a variety of diagnostic and therapeutic techniques and technologies have been developed. These developments are some of the most exciting and important advancements of clinical dentistry. A panel of internationally renowned experts will present the most important challenges that face clinicians every day as well as provide risk assessment tools to help clinicians select the appropriate diagnostic and therapeutic strategies. The program boasts five days with a diverse range of educational opportunities. The two-days of general sessions will include lecture presentation and case presentations, as well as expert panel discussion. In addition, there are a variety of surgical and prosthetic hands-on workshops on models, animal jaws, as well as four cadaver workshops. Although the majority of the general-session presentations are interdisciplinary in nature, there are also sessions designated as "Surgical Track", "Restorative Track" and "Dental Hygiene Forum" that focus on specific disciplines. The program is sure to inspire you and provide material, which are very germane to clinical practice. This is an educational opportunity not to be missed by the entire oral healthcare team, including specialists, restorative dentists, dental hygienists and dental technologists.
